

JA
Canada

Member of
JA Worldwide

SUCCESS
STARTS
HERE

Money Questions Answered

How can I have money for the things I need?

Bite-Sized Learning

Interactive learning series for teens

Grades 9-12

Ready to learn about how you can better manage your money? Take the next step with this digital learning experience to explore the difference between needs and wants and how you can have money for the things you need while saving for the things you want.

By participating in this module, students will be better prepared to:

- Explain and differentiate between needs and wants.
- Identify how to set and achieve short-term and long-term financial goals.
- Recognize how utilizing tools such as high-interest savings accounts and features in mobile apps can maximize savings.

Access this module at jacampus.org/money-questions-answered

neo

National Development Partner

Module Topics Include:

Exploring Needs and Wants

Explore how to make informed decisions to prioritize your personal spending by identifying the things you want versus the things you really need.

Achieving Your Financial Goals

Unlock the secrets to help turn your savings goals into reality. Find out how savings accounts, interest, and automatic transfers can help fast-track your savings goals.

Tools to Help

Find out which tools can help supercharge your savings journey so you can better plan, track and watch your money grow. Explore the advantages of using financial apps and the unique customization tools available like "Auto-Save" and personalized goal tracking. As your goals change, your accounts can too.

Goal Setting for Needs and Wants

Learn how you can set goals to balance the things you want versus the things you really need. Whether it's a new drum set or saving for education, discover how setting short and long-term savings goals are an important part of being more independent with managing your money.

Put Your Money Smarts to the Test!

Ready to flex your money smarts? See if you have the financial know-how with these interactive quizzes and games. Expect to be challenged on knowing the difference between needs and wants, plus understanding saving strategies and tools that can help.